SALARIES AND EXPENSES OF INFIRMARY DIRECTORS

Point to Fact That They Were Always on Job,
Sometimes Two, at Once—Some Data For Tax Payers to Consider.

Considerable comment has been heard as a result of the article published in Wednesday's News regarding the extravagance of the county infirmary directors in handling the money devoted to the use of that institution. In going over the records of the institution it will be well for the public to be informed as to the amount of money paid these officers for the work they do for the county.

According to the statutes made and provided for such cases each infirmary director is entitled to $2.50 for each day that he devotes to the actual work of the institution. From the itemized statement below it will be seen that all of these gentlemen have been constantly employed at their desks in the infirmary office and have been faithful workers not even taking legal holidays to rest from their heavy duties. And in the matter of expenses they have no doubt made many long and hard trips that the public has never known about.

It might be well to remark in passing that each of these men has been able day after day to be in two places at once, a seemingly impossible feat, but which has been performed with neatness and dispatch by the members of the honorable board. Doubtless there will be some explanation forthcoming showing how this was done but until this appears the taxpayers will have to figure it out for themselves.
